

NEWBERRY CERTAIN TO WIN, SAY FRIENDS

Doubt Sentiment Is Growing for Vote to Refuse to Seat Michigan Man.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
New York Herald Bureau, Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.
Reports that the opposition to the seating of Truman H. Newberry as a Senator from Michigan because of the large expenditure of money in his campaign is growing in the Senate and that his seat is in jeopardy because of his failure to appear in person to answer the attacks were discredited to-day by the friends of Mr. Newberry in the Senate.
These men say there has not been the slightest change in the sentiment regarding the case in the Senate, and that Mr. Newberry will be seated by a majority of from 10 to 12.
A canvass of the situation to-day among the Senators bore out the conclusions of Mr. Newberry's friends. It is true that a few Senators, notably Willis Ohio, Capper (Kans.) and McNary (Ore.) feel that Mr. Newberry's case has been weakened and that he has supplied good ammunition to the opposition by failing to appear before the Senators. The charges were that he had full cognizance of the expenditures of large sums in his behalf, but that fact will not sway enough votes against him to change the result.

There is a strong probability, however, that when the case is reopened in the Senate on January 7, or soon thereafter, Mr. Newberry will make his defense on the floor. That opinion was expressed to-day by Senator Sterling (S. D.), one of those listed with the opposition. The Senator declared no one was authorized to say he intends to vote against the seating of Mr. Newberry, and he strongly intimated that he would vote the other way.

Senator Willis entertains practically the same views on the subject as Senator Sterling. While listed as an opponent to the seating of Mr. Newberry, Senator Willis said he had reached no conclusion.
The report that Senator Kellogg (Minn.) will vote against the seating of Mr. Newberry is not believed, and it is merely assumed that Senator Johnson (Cal.) will join the opposition, say friends of Mr. Newberry.

Senator Smoot (Utah) said there had been no change in the Newberry matter, as far as he has been advised.
"My understanding and belief is that he will be seated by a safe majority," said Senator Smoot. "The opposition, like the opponents to the four Power treaty, are very active, but they are not getting anywhere as far as I know."
Senator Moses (N. H.) says he can count only about seven Republicans who will vote against the seating of Mr.

Newberry, and he has heard no reliable reports that there has been any change in the lineup. The Senator is convinced that Mr. Newberry will be seated by from 10 to 12 majority.
Senator Townsend (Mich.) said most of the opposition to Mr. Newberry is being inspired by "Ford's attorneys, who have a good thing of it in dragging out the case." The Senator asserted that attorneys for Mr. Ford have been camping at the Capitol for a long time "stirring up the Newberry case and keeping in the limelight." He believes his colleague will be seated by a safe majority, saying that he has observed no perceptible change in the sentiment.
The only Republicans known to be openly opposed to the seating of Newberry are Borah (Idaho), Kenyon (Iowa), Ladd (N. Dak.), La Follette (Wis.), Norris (Neb.), Norbeck (S. Dak.) and Sutherland (W. Va.). In the doubtful column may be safely placed only McNary (Ore.) and Capper (Kans.).

ALTMAN EMPLOYEES RECEIVE $400,000

4,000 Workers Benefit in Annual Distribution of Foundation Fund.

Nearly $400,000 was distributed yesterday among the employees of B. Altman & Co., through the Altman Foundation, as a Christmas greeting from the firm to its workers and in appreciation of their efforts during the year. There are nearly 4,000 employees in the firm.

Many of them used the gift to complete their list of Christmas shopping and to make preparations for to-day's festivities. Others declared their intentions of starting bank accounts with the gift as an initial deposit.

Through the Altman Foundation, established under the will of Benjamin Altman, who left more than $2,500,000 to his employees, the entire staff of the firm is remembered each year at Christmas time. During the year in the Altman continuation school several hundred employees study during the day and evening to advance themselves in the business. The school is mainly for those who were forced to leave school to go to work, and opportunity is offered to each employee of the firm to attend the sessions. Each year graduation exercises are held and diplomas awarded.

The school has its own building at 195 Madison avenue, and classes in weaving, manufacturing and selling of various products, commercial geography and general business subjects are conducted. Col. Michael Friedsam, president of B. Altman & Co., is the head of the Altman Foundation. Due to the business depression this year many firms were forced to discontinue temporarily their custom of giving an annual bonus to employees. The Altman Foundation, however, made no variation in the set policy of the Christmas remembrance for every employee of the large firm.

CHRISTMAS, 1921

by

AUGUSTA E. STETSON, C. S. D.

"The Word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword."—Hebrews iv., 12

CHRISTMAS, 1921, suggests the words of Christ to his followers, "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the [material] world." The Son of God came to bring peace on earth, and he accomplished this mighty task by using the sword of the Spirit, the Word of God, with which to destroy the so-called carnal mind, with its phenomena—sin and death. Christ Jesus wielded this sword—spiritual thought-force—during his human experience. It enabled him to work out of the material, fleshly senses, and through the tomb, from which he emerged triumphant, holding aloft his sword, in demonstration of the spiritual fact, that it was unbroken, powerful, and "two-edged."

With this Word of God, or sword of the Spirit, the Christ-man has continued his warfare with the material dream-world, human concepts, and material generation, expressed in fleshly images, which have a beginning, and inevitably end in suffering and death. At Christ's second and final demonstration over the carnal so-called mind, with its material phenomena, which he promised, he is using the same sword, the Word of

From the HOLY BIBLE

The morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy.—Job xxviii., 7.

In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.

And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.—CHRIST JESUS, John xiv., 2-4.

This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.—CHRIST JESUS, John xv., 12.

From the writings of MARY BAKER EDDY

Again loved Christmas is here, full of divine benediction, and crowned with the dearest memories in human history—the earthly advent and nativity of our Lord and Master. At this happy season the veil of time springs aside at the touch of Love.

To-day the watchful shepherd shouts his welcome over the new cradle of an old truth. This truth has traversed night, through gloom to glory, from cradle to crown. To the awakened consciousness, the Bethlehem babe has left his swaddling-clothes (material environments) for the form and comeliness of the divine ideal, which has passed from a corporeal to the spiritual sense of Christ and is winning the heart of humanity with ineffable tenderness.

Nothing is worthy the name of religion save one lowly offering—love.

The basis of Christmas is love loving its enemies, returning good for evil, love that "suffereth long, and is kind."—Miscellany, pp. 256-258, 260, let us together sing the old-new song of salvation, and let our measure of time and joy be spiritual, not material.—Miscellany, page 166.

I still hear the harvest song of the Redeemer awakening the nations, causing man to love his enemies.—Miscellany, page 316.

God hath thrust in the sickle, and He is separating the tares from the wheat. This hour is molten in the furnace of Soul. Its harvest song is world-wide, world-known, world-great.—Miscellany, page 269.

kings and Lord of lords," and rejoice in the imminence of the Son of God, in fulfillment of his promise, "I go, and... I will come again." On this "blest Christmas morn," the words of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christ's Christianity, or Christian Science, are prophetic:

Dear Christ, forever here and near,
No cradle song,
No natal hour and mother's tear,
To thee belong.

Thou God-idea, Life-encrowned,
The Bethlehem babe—
Beloved, replete, by flesh embound—
Was but thy shade!

Thou gentle beam of living Love,
And deathless Life!
Truth infinite,—so far above
All mortal strife,

Or cruel creed, or earth-born taint:
Fill us to-day
With all thou art—be thou our saint,
Our stay, alway.
